

LIVING RECORDS AND THEIR USE IN LANDSCAPE ANALYSIS

Prof. Li Li

Xi'an Jiaotong-Liverpool University, Department of Health and Environmental Sciences

Spatializing Memory: Oral History and Participatory Mapping
for Reconstructing
Pastoral Land-Use
Legacies

Prof.
Francesco Carrer

Newcastle University, School of History, Classics and Archaeology

Combining ethnoarchaeology and computer modelling to investigate human interactions with mountain environments

Dr. Janet Fisher

University of Edinburgh, School of Geosciences, Geography and the Lived Environment

Using participatory and deliberative methods to explore local perspectives on ecological restoration in the Scottish Highlands

Monday, June 29th
2:30PM to 4:00PM
Central EUR Time
Join online here

Moderator and questions:
Rebekka Dossche
rebekka.dossche@unige.it

A seminar series organized by:
Historical Landscape Ecology Working Group

